

We invite you to Join the UNSELFIE CHALLENGE

If a selfie is all about you, then an UNSELFIE is about others!

Black Friday following Thanksgiving screams Buy! Buy! Buy!

And the following Monday, Cyber Monday, screams Buy! Buy! Buy! on the internet.

#GivingTuesday is a fun and joyful way to show that Christmas is about giving and making a difference.

We are looking for creative, brave UNSELFIES to consider doing 2 things:

*You love Children of Promise.
Consider inspiring others in this great work with an Unselfie!*

1

On Tuesday, November 10, at 6:00 pm your time, post a creative and fun UNSELFIE photo on Facebook or another social media site.

Make a statement that YOU are an UNSELFIE and Christmas is about making a difference by helping others.

Some of you will amaze us! And yes, your photo can be a group shot.

Think of hundreds of UNSELFIES popping up at the same time! WOW 😊

*Do you want us to see your UNSELFIE?
Upload it HERE or send it to Kirk Bookout.*

When you post your photo, tell everyone about your UNSELFIE and about Children of Promise. Here is an example of what you might say:

As I approach Christmas, I am part of the great #GIVINGTUESDAY UNSELFIE Challenge. My UNSELFIE is about others and not me.

So on December 1, #GivingTuesday, I am going to make a donation to a cause I believe in and love - Children of Promise.

I will do that at:

www.echildrenofpromise.org

Please join me in supporting Children of Promise or make a gift to a cause you love. Join me in becoming an UNSELFIE!
